FIRST CLASS LUXURY SLEEP

2016 collection

"The touch of a hand is visible in every detail."

History Bedeur

The Bedeur brand was founded in 2014. Bedeur beds are unique beds that embody healthy sleep in an individual design, complemented by unique services. Its founders have extensive experience in producing beds. The Bedeur brand was created with the desire of finding perfect sleep and a vision about the quality of the services provided on the market of luxury beds.

The company is headquartered in Freiburg, Germany, situated on the border of Switzerland and France. And just as the influences of the Helvetian Cross and Gallic Rooster are reflected in the atmosphere of the city, they were also imprinted on the face of the brand. Thanks to this philosophy, Bedeur combines Swiss thoroughness and craftsmanship with a casual French elegance.

Bedeur beds are handmade by the best and most experienced carpenters, upholsterers and seamstresses. The inspiration of Swiss craftsmanship is present in every part of the bed. The hand production enables the perfect control of every step and brings an unmistakable exclusivity.

First class luxury sleep

Our goal is to pamper you and provide you with world-class sleep. Therefore, we combine the best of traditional crafts with the latest research along the way. That's why we are constantly developing and improving our beds.

Thanks to that, in our beds you will experience hitherto unknown luxury, combining the highest quality care specially tailored to your personality. For us, that is the true link between Swiss meticulousness and the future of healthy sleep.

The story of the Bedeur brand is the story of "First class luxury sleep".

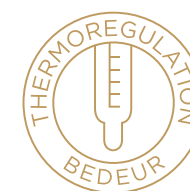

Healthy sleep, it's the harmony of the details

The quality of our sleep is affected by a number of factors. Your lifestyle, whether you exercise, how we eat as well as how much stress we experience every day are what is important. Research has even shown marital status to be associated with sleep problems. A direct relationship between how we sleep and our physical and mental health has also been demonstrated. One's bed plays an important role on the way to truly healthy sleep.

That's why we work with every detail so that the bed conforms to you as much as possible. And it's not just the firmness. The airiness of the bed and its thermoregulatory ability are very important as well. Therefore, we use the exceptional properties of natural materials and thanks to their combination, we can bring the harmony of heat, dryness, and lightness. We also focus on hygiene, which is why First Class services which include cleaning the bed at wvyour home is part of our offer. Because we choose materials with an emphasis on purity and quality, your sleep will not be disturbed by the presence of unwanted allergens.

Healthy sleep, it's the harmony of the details.
Healthy sleep, that's Bedeur.

How do you choose the right Bedeur bed?

You can choose every detail yourself, from the size and composition of the mattress, box and topper, to the design of the headboard and legs as well as the selection of the surface fabric. To ensure that your new bed fulfils your needs, desires and personality, we provide first-class service in showrooms and help you with your selection. After all, the feeling that you've made the correct choice is just as important for relaxed sleep as the bed itself.

The basic criterion is the composition of each layer and the firmness of the bed. For each model series you can choose between a design with steel springs or natural rubber in a mattress and a box.

Steel springs are standard in a continental bed and allow you to set a wide firmness range. If the presence of metal in the bed is undesirable, then the design with natural rubber is right for you. Rubber features unique sensory properties and provides support for the spine by other means than springs. That's why you will find both spring and rubber mattresses in our mattresses. Each model range can be set to three levels of firmness.

Gorgeous

To be modern means to understand the times in which we live, while constantly staying ahead of them.

The Bedeur II. bed is a touch of modernity in the conservative world of continental beds. It is timeless, but stands firmly in the present.

It is based on unconventional stories, but it tells them in its own way.

Bedeur II.

The Bedeur II. is a modern approach to continental beds. The presence of silk facilitates the regeneration of tired skin. The layers of cotton and wool in the topper and mattress create ideal conditions for relaxation after a busy day. The layers of horsehair, which keep the inside of the mattress and topper dry are a key feature. It is also one of the most durable natural materials in existence. The bed is flexible and adapts to your body thanks to the Swedish steel springs or natural rubber. Each type is produced in three variants of firmness.

Spring

Bedeur

Kids

Bedeur Kids is a variation of continental beds, which responds to the specifics of the construction of a child's body. A medium to high bed firmness and the most rigid construction possible is required for the healthy sleep and proper development of children. This ensures that a child's spine is provided with stable support and is not exposed to any risk of scoliosis or other growth deformities.

Model Kids The Kids model retains all the usual advantages of the Bedeur family and is the ideal solution for your offspring, growing up right before your eyes.

Children are far more likely to roll over, which is why the model for them contains no mattress zones. Support is provided by steel springs. The bed is also suitable for allergy sufferers.

High quality materials

Silk

For 2000 years the production of silk was a Chinese State secret and attempts at its disclosure were punished by death. Silk is the essence of beauty. Contact with the skin acts against aging and wrinkles. It brings freshness, lightness and grace to your sleep.

Cotton is a natural raw material that has been used in the manufacture of textiles for thousands of years. The popularity of the material is due to its lightness, softness and natural resistance. For Bedeur beds, the absorbency of cotton which guarantees pleasant sleep without night sweats is a key feature.

Cotton

Horsehair

Horsehair is one of the most durable natural materials. It is unique on account of its ability to naturally soak up moisture and then ventilate it. It is a hollow fiber, bringing lightness and airiness to beds. Mattresses with horsehair remain dry and flexible for a long period.

In Bedeur beds, you can find natural materials selected with an emphasis on top quality, demonstrable origin and environmental friendliness. That's why we choose real gems excellent not only for their characteristics, but also their purity. We can guarantee you a long lifetime and the absence of allergens.

Swedish steel

Each spring in our mattresses is packed in cotton bags. Thanks to this each spring moves separately and independently from the others, creating perfect support for the human body in any position. The Swedish steel used ensures durability.

In the area of the Fertile Crescent, people were already working with sheep wool 11 thousand years ago. In the heat, which dominates this part of the world, wool proved to be perfect natural air conditioning. In our mattresses it increases airiness and repels dust mites and molly.

Wool

Scandinavian pine

Scandinavian pine wood has the ideal prerequisites for use in the production of beds. In the clean but harsh environment of the northern forests, trees grow slowly and their wood thus acquires a unique combination of strength and flexibility.

Cashmere is a treasure of the Himalayas. It is characterized by delicateness without comparison among natural materials. The rarity of cashmere enhances its thermoregulation properties. It can adapt to body temperature and warm up in the cold and then cool down in the heat.

Cashmere

Natural rubber

Rubber is a modern alternative to traditional springs. It perfectly adapts to the human body and holds it in the optimum position during sleep. It has antibacterial properties and repels dust. It is perfect for customers with allergies or those who do not want to have metal springs in their bed.

Mayan Green

In our beds you will find natural rubber produced in Guatemala. Its manufacturer is a member of the Forest Stewardship Council laying emphasis on the environmental and social responsibility of companies. The Rainforest Alliance certificate confirms that the rubber used by us in production does not lead to the destruction of the rainforests. The LGA and Oeko-Tex certificates illustrate the high level of quality of the material and the environmental sustainability of its production.

Headboard

The headboard is the face of the bed. It speaks about its spirit as well as your personality. It defines a space for sleep and has a significant impact on the stability of the bed.

We have created three basic types of headboards, which we modify through upholstery, by covering with a fabric or highlighting the wooden base. In case of interest, we can produce a tailor-made headboard. Likewise, a bed variant without a headboard is possible.

Upholstery fabrics

The fabric is just as important for a bed as skin is for humans. It determines its appearance and completes the overall atmosphere of the bedroom. It gives a feeling of softness and the bed breathes through it.

We offer hundreds of different fabrics, purely natural textiles, materials with synthetic fiber and leather. For hotels special non-flammable fabrics can be used. We also have families with children in mind and offer the Bedeur Home magic fabric. We upholster your new bed with other materials than in the swatches, which you choose elsewhere.

Malleable toppers

The topper is an important mediator between you and the mattress. It surrounds the lying body, adapts to its shape and gives softness to the sleep. To keep the topper from pressing you, we exclusively use cotton taffeta and the sides are hemmed, which ensures the uniform distribution of the inner layers of materials.

We offer three types of toppers with horsehair. We also offer a unique solution where the horsehair is replaced with natural rubber.

Stable legs

Legs give a bed stability and allow access of air to the bottom part of the box, allowing it to ventilate. The quality of the legs is important to the overall durability of the bed and comfort. Their form also determines the overall height of the bed.

The offer includes four variants of handmade wooden legs and three kinds of steel legs. If you have your own idea about what your bed will stand on, we produce legs made according to your wishes.
